“Khaki Kutlass” wet/dry general purpose blade

Hard working contractors with a variety of small saws and conditions often need a rather special blade which can do most jobs they need doing. As sawing is a small part of their work low tool price is important.

“Khaki Kutlass” is this kind of blade. Designed and developed to keep things as simple as possible this very reasonably priced blade is a great general purpose tool for occasional users or where the risk of loss can be high.

Contractors typically swap this blade from slab saw to power cut off saw and from asphalt to concrete with no hesitation. Mostly because the lengths of cut are short this way of working is practical.

“Khaki kutlass” is engineered to be as flexible as possible. Use dry when necessary.

ISO 9001 quality ensures you will be consistently satisfied with this blade.
